

7 House Democrats convention delegates

Seven members of the Louisiana House have won Democratic Party balloting for election as delegates to the party's national convention, where President Barack Obama will be nominated for re-election.

Among those elected delegates to the Sept. 3-6 convention in Charlotte, N.C., were state Reps. Regina Barrow, Patricia Haynes Smith and Alfred Williams, all of Baton Rouge; Randal L. Gaines, of LaPlace; Barbara Norton and Patrick Williams, both of Shreveport; and Katrina R. Jackson, of Monroe.

They are among the 42 state delegates elected in congressional district balloting.

Others elected from the Baton Rouge-based 6th Congressional District were Cassandra Butler, Gideon T. Carter III, Sherman Ruth and W.T. Winfield.
